Automated confidence in Actim[®] testing

The Actim[®] 1ngeni System takes testing to a whole new level in the laboratory and at the point of care. Testing is easy, fast, and automated – delivering a high degree of confidence and clarity to both interpretation and documentation of results.

Actim[®] 1ngeni is simply ingenious!

Several QC options provide full control over the system; the test and instrument validity can be monitored via liquid controls, self-tests and instrument checks. Together, these features ensure consistent reliability in results.
